First Maize Brings $3.18 On Market

EARLIEST MAIZE IN SEVERAL SEASONS COMES TO HAMLIN MONDAY FROM COKER

First 1946 maize came in to the Hamlin market this week and brought $3.18 on the local market, according to L. H. McBride, buyer of the first batch of threshed grain for the new season.

Tom Coker, who lives eight miles east of Hamlin, brought in the new crop maize. The grain graded 58 pounds to the bushel and was of good quality, McBride states. It easily made the No. 1 standard. The maize was of Martin variety, and was yielding well, according to report from Coker.

Local buyers declared Wednesday that the load of maize brought in Monday by Coker was the earliest brought in for several seasons. Average first harvest from maize crops in the past has been around August 1 in the Hamlin area.

Yield of the head grains in this area was hanging in the balance this week—with the Rain Man holding the trump card. Crop observers were saying that if rains come within the next few days, a normal yield will be harvested. Otherwise, the late planted grains will be dependent entirely on the moisture they receive.

In the territory the head grains are assorted more as to age than old-timers can remember. Rains in the spring determined varied planting seasons. One grain buyer said that if good rains came the Hamlin section would be harvesting head grains until Christmas.

Shipments from Hamlin last season totaled 257 cars.

North Cemetery Road To Get Caliche Work

Hamlin City Council, in session Tuesday evening at the City Hall, agreed to place a caliche base road from the Hamlin-Aspermont highway east to the North Cemetery, located a mile north of the Katy Railroad.

Three-quarters of a mile in length, the road will become all-weather for use for funeral processions. Because the capacity of the East Cemetery has been outgrown by Hamlin, the old cemetery has been improved and expanded to care for the future needs of the community, according to officials of the Hamlin Cemetery Association.

Fines Face Water Users During Rotan Shortage

Water shortage at Rotan reached the desperate stage last week when members of the City Council issued orders to officers to patrol the city and fine citizens $25 if found using water for lawns or other irrigation purposes on five days of the week when good water was being run in city mains. Gyp water was being run on Wednesdays and Thursdays in order to meet needs of big users and for irrigation purposes.

Extremely hot and dry weather at Rotan had precipitated the water shortage. Minimum water rates were raised from $2 to $2.50.

NEW CITY BUDGET SHOWS DECREASE FOR COMING YEAR

Estimated financial budget for the City of Hamlin, as submitted for public inspection Tuesday at the city hall by the City Council, for the fiscal year April 1 to May 1, 1947, is about $1,000 less than the budget for last year, city officials state.

New budget of $62,000 for the new year was approved by the council in monthly session Tuesday evening.

Slash under last year's budget was made in the face of increases for some departments. Salaries of several city employees were increased, and one new employee was added. However, a $5,000 appropriation made last year to assist the State Highway Department in the drainage work from the Rotan highway was not included, which permitted the $1,000 slash.

Tax rolls are being compiled now by city clerks, which will show a gain over last year's renditions. An equalization board will hold sessions the latter part of the month, according to Mayor Holly Toler, to set valuations. Tax rate probably will be retained at $1.50, rate for 1945.

Lions President Talks Plans for Year's Work

President D. D. Shelburne of the Hamlin Lions Club suggested several major activities for the ensuing club year when the civic group met Tuesday noon at the Morgan Hotel in regular weekly session. The fiscal club year began July 1.

Continuation of primary program of sight conservation; school activities; house numbering for Hamlin; increasing the club's membership; and work with boys and girls of the community were suggested as worthy goals for the club by Shelburne.

Directors of the Lions Club were slated to meet Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the office at the new grammar school grounds. Shelburne designated committee work under the three club vice presidents.

Hamlin All-Stars Play Swenson Nine Saturday

Hamlin All-Stars, picked from the member teams of the Hamlin Softball League, will engage the nine from Swenson in the curtain raiser Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the city ball park.

Following the men's game, the Hamlin girls' softball team will play Neinda, starting about 9:00 o'clock. The girls, sponsored by the Hamlin Fire Department, are managed by Sol Branscum.

Summer School Closes Friday for 30 Students

Summer session of Hamlin Schools was closed last Friday, with all 30 students enrolled making their work up to standard. H. P. McLaughlin, high school principal, who had directed the classes, announced. Mrs. Fred C. Smith had assisted with work in the lower grades.

D. C. Hughes and Betty Jo Green, seniors, completed their accredited work. Three students, W. S. Wilcox, Nita Green and DeWard Smith, made up all their elementary school work and will be permitted to enter high school this fall, McLaughlin stated.

Hamlin Man Buys Car At War Assets Auction

Sale of surplus motor vehicles held Monday by the War Assets Administration at Fort Worth Army Air Field was the most successful of the entire series of similar sales recently held, according to Hamilton Morton, WAA regional director. Seventy per cent of the vehicles offered had been claimed by principals or alternates of the veterans invited to the sale at the end of the first day.

One Hamlin veteran was listed among Monday's purchasers as an alternate. Roger F. Pitcock of Hamlin, Route 1, purchased a one and one-half-ton truck for $776. He will use the truck for grain hauling.

City Grows Faster Than Water Plant

NEW FACILITIES BEFORE NEXT YEAR PLANNED TO CARE FOR CITY'S GROWTH

Hamlin's phenomenal growth of the past few years has outstripped her water supply capacity—and the City Council cannot do much about it right now. Materials for adequate facilities are just not available right at the present.

So next best thing under the circumstances is the decision by the governing board made Tuesday night in regular monthly session is to ask that city water users "let up" some on water consumption during the summer peak for several weeks. Relief for the situation is expected to be made before another summer rolls around, the councilmen state.

After only one month of the lower summer water rate of 10 cents per 1,000 gallons (over the minimum of 3,000 gallons) the old rate of 20 cents per 1,000 will be restored beginning with meter readings on July 23. No further reduced rates may be expected this summer, councilmen stated Wednesday.

Mayor Holly Toler explained Wednesday that provisions are being made by city authorities to expand water pumping, filtration and storage capacity as soon as materials are available. Present facilities can process only about 700,000 gallons per day, while demand has exceeded this figure several days recently, and backlog for fire fighting and other possible emergencies could not be built up. Hence, the move being made by the City Council is apparently necessary.

Two Hamlin Men Sell Livestock at Abilene

Two Hamlin stockmen sold 26 head of cattle on the Abilene market Monday when market was steady and demand good on all classes at the Abilene Livestock Auction Company.

Jess Bonds of Hamlin sold 10 mixed cattle at up to $14.80.

W. E. Dunham of Hamlin sold 16 mixed cattle up to $14.60.

Anson Consolidation Fails.

Proposed consolidation of Anderson Chapel School District with Anson Independent School District was defeated in the Anderson Chapel precinct in the election on June 29. According to unofficial returns, the Anderson Chapel community voted 35 against and 27 for consolidation. In Anson voting was not heavy, but those voting ran up a five to one majority in favor of consolidation.

Brick work on the new elementary school building in Northwest Hamlin was scheduled to get underway Thursday, according to information from the contractor, T. E. Shelburne & Son. Lewis Sweet of Sweetwater has the brick contract. He will have three or four helpers on the job.

Slated to start the brick work last week-end, Sweet and his workers were delayed by another job in Sweetwater.

Other work with foundations, floor plans, etc. is going forward according to plan, Shelburne declares. Cleaning of brick from the old building, which are being utilized in the new structure, is nearing completion.

THREE NEW DISTRICTS ADDED IN ELECTION SATURDAY TO MAKE HUGE DISTRICT

Hamlin Independent Consolidated School District now has a scholastic census of 1,107—all time high. It is composed of 14½ square miles of territory.

Three additional area school districts were added to the district in consolidation elections held Saturday in voting at Dowie, Wise Chapel, Swedonia and Hamlin. Consolidation was favored in all four districts that polled 89 votes for merging and 39 against.

Carlton, Neinda and Celotex school districts had previously been consolidated with the Hamlin district during the last five months.

Additional school buses will be operated in the district the coming school term beginning in September, school authorities announce.

In the combined districts there were total white scholastics of 1,030 last year. In addition, Hamlin district enumerated 77 colored children on its rolls, which would make the total 1,107.

In the voting by districts Saturday Dowie voted seven for consolidation and two against; Wise Chapel voted 23 for merging and 20 against; Swedonia voted 20 for consolidation and 17 against; and Hamlin voted 39 for and 0 against.

Total valuations in the consolidated districts were $3,331,238 last year, which will probably be increased to nearly $4,000,000 for 1946. Tax rate will be $1.25 for $100 property valuation.

White Elephant Sale Features Club Party

Thursday evening on the softly lighted lawn of the Ray Maberry home near McCaulley, a Home Demonstration Club benefit party was given Friday evening. Games of variety and a style show furnished entertainment for attendants.

Highlight of the evening was a white elephant sale, for which each one received his or her share of entertainment, amusement and a package for a dime—if you were fortunate enough to be holding one when the bell chimed. Then the real white elephant was auctioned off. Bidding was brisk among both men and women, then it was discovered that two Maberry men, Luther and Ray, were vying determinedly. Finally the order to sell was given, the prized piece of pottery going to Ray, the last high bid. Proceeds netted $25.

Delicious home-baked cakes and ice cream were served. It was a most enjoyable occasion, and it was late when the last good-byes were said. Each one agreed that Mr. and Mrs. Ray Maberry were charming hosts.

Attending the party were Mr. and Mrs. Luther Maberry, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hemphill, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Fancher, Mrs. Louis Boyd and daughter, Velma Lou, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Labor-Industry Law Necessary to Curb US Inflation, Miles Says

Stamford, July 13. — Ted Miles, Stamford business man and ex-GI running for the U. S. Congress on the West Texas farmers' ticket, today called on the present Congress for immediate action to ward off a second series of devastating post-war strikes.

Miles declared that even more imperative than price manipulations were concrete laws which would impose equal responsibility on labor and industry to maintain the welfare of the people. "Laws which will bring strikes and shutdowns detrimental to the people into the courts instead of before powerless boards are the only means by which we can halt the deadly spiral now in progress," he said. His statement was prompted by the recent series of new notices served on industry by union leaders. (Paid pol. adv.)

WAGSTAFF TALKS ON DEFENSE AND FARM PROGRAM

Bob Wagstaff, candidate for Congress, spoke on the street of Hamlin last Saturday in the interest of his candidacy.

The two principal issues which Wagstaff stressed were national defense and the farm program. He declared that most of the other issues now being discussed were temporary and would be settled as soon as the reconversion period was over, but that the problem of national defense and the problem of farm prices would remain for many years.

The speaker favored full support armed forces to support the organization of the United Nations with sufficient zation or to defend the nation from attack in the event the organization should prove inadequate.

He opposed sharing the secret of the atomic bomb with other nations.

"The most important issue affecting the prosperity of this district is the maintenance of a high level of prices for the products of our farms and ranches," declared the speaker. He favored the farm program, including payments for parity and soil conservation, with a substantial increase in parity to take care of the expense of farm labor.

The speaker also favored increased appropriations for farm-to-market roads, extension of the REA and all other agencies intended to place agriculture on an equality with industry and manufacturing.

Research to discover new uses for cotton and other farm products and a search to find new plants and crops suitable for dry land farming was also urged.

"So long as we can maintain high agricultural prices, this district will be prosperous, and as a member of Congress I intend to cooperate and work actively with the farm bloc in Congress to accomplish this result," he concluded. (Paid pol. adv.)

Olin Culberson

Chairman of the Texas
Railroad Commission, candidate for a second

RAILROAD COMMISSIONER

Bases his candidacy on his record of economical administration, his hard fight to conserve the Texas natural gas supply and his consistent drive for the removal of the freight rate discrimination against Texas farmers, fruit and vegetable growers, ranchers and other producers.

"I have carried out my pledges to follow the 'open door' policy of honesty and friendliness in the Commission's Austin office, have abolished 'favoritism' in Railroad Commission oil and gas regulation, truck, bus, rail and utility matters and have vigorously fought every attempt of federal control of oil and gas in Texas," said Mr. Culberson in his first re-election announcement.

"But the fight to make of the Texas Railroad Commission what Jim Hogg conceived it should be when he battled the 'special interests' to create the Commission has just started. Governor Hogg saw it as guardian of the people's rights and the public wealth. Olin Culberson sees the Commission's duty in that same light today. The economic structure of our state is founded largely on our great oil industry and our natural resources must not be squandered now but must be conserved for the welfare of future generations as well as for the benefit of the present. The oil, gas and transportation industries are safe in the experienced hands of Olin Culberson. One of the prime projects of my first term has been to stop the waste of gas. I have also worked to check the heedless and unrestricted exportation of our natural gas into states having cheap coal. I am most proud of my record on the score," said Culberson.

Culberson's greatest single achievement was his steadfast refusal to agree in 1941 to put into effect at once a 6 per cent increase on railroad freight rates on intrastate business ordered by the Interstate Commerce Commission. All 47 other states did put the increase into effect, costing their people plenty by doing so. A year passed, during which time Culberson still argued and delayed the installation of the 6 per cent hike in freight rates in Texas, and then the Interstate Commerce Commission suspended its order. The saving to Texas shippers was approximately $5,000,000, proving that courage on the part of a public official pays great dividends when that official is devoted to the public welfare and is not afraid of political consequences when he fights for the people.

Chairman Culberson, nearing 60 and a veteran of World War I, was born in Coryell County. As a young man he worked in the Katy Railroad yard at Hillsboro as a switchman. He is truly the first railroad man to ever be elected Railroad Commissioner. He served Hill County both as County Clerk and then as County Judge before moving to Edna, Jackson County, in 1928 and engaging in the mercantile business and farming. Olin Culberson is a member of the Presbyterian Church, Lions Club, American Legion and is secretary of the Texas Volunteer Firemen with organizations in 515 towns, which membership is composed almost in its entirety of veterans of World War I or World War II.

Ban on Fireworks and Cycling to Be Enforced

Members of the Hamlin City Council this week were reminding young citizens of the town of the city ordinance making it a violation of law to shoot fireworks in the city fire limits. Enforcement of the city ordinance will be pushed, and offenders fined, officials stated this week.

Boys and girls riding their bicycles on the sidewalks of the city were also being cautioned to stop the practice.

A tramp knocked on the door of an English inn called "George and the Dragon." The landlady opened the door and the tramp asked her for something to eat.

"No," she growled, slamming the door in his face.

The tramp knocked again, and again the landlady opened the door. "Now," he said, "let me talk to George."

HAMLIN SCHOOLS HAVE 1,000 STUDENTS

With consolidation Saturday of Dovie, Wise Chapel and Swendon school districts with the Hamlin Independent School District, mergers of area schools was raised to six within the last six months. Carlton, Neinda and Carlton had previously been consolidated in elections. Total white scholastics for the combined districts will be approximately 1,030 for the opening sessions in September, school officials estimate.

Hamlin is happy to welcome the students of the neighboring communities to its schools. We are glad to share the facilities that have built here to make a school system that ranks with the best in the state.

No high pressure methods were used in the consolidation moves. In fact, Hamlin really had nothing to gain by the consolidations, as more facilities will have to be provided in order to care for the increased enrollments. However, with larger classes in some departments, better opportunities may be provided for both local and incoming students.

LET'S FIND WHAT'S RIGHT WITH WORLD

District Judge A. S. Mauzey of Sweetwater, in speaking to a civic group in Hamlin last week, said too many so-called orators were going about the country nowadays telling what's the matter with the world. He reminded his hearers that we need more leaders to try to find what's right with the world—and go to preaching a positive doctrine rather than a negative one.

We've done a lot of feeble thinking since hearing the imminent jurist. He has something worth mulling over. And the majority of our candidates for state office need big doses of the same medicine. Too many of them are telling what's wrong with his opponents rather than expounding what's right with their own campaigns.

It's a funny thing what politicians will tell the unsuspecting public what they propose to do when they get in office. Surely the average candidate for governor does not expect us to fall for their big promises of action, when they know—and a lot of the public knows—that they can do very little about the so-called ills of our state and nation. A governor cannot enact a law; he cannot change a statute; he cannot make appropriations; he cannot change federal practices.

Let's join the judge in his resolve to find more things that are right with the world—and quit reminding others of what's wrong with it.

TIME TO PUT ON THAT ASAFOETIDA

We heard an imminent orator some days ago tell of an old-time custom practiced years ago by most families in Alabama, where after a family was started, babies came along as regular occurrences; one child was not weaned until another was ready to suckle. The orator declared that in one instance a big eight-year-old boy in his mother's lap embarrassed her at church one day by asking for his "dinner." Rather than have the same thing occur the next Sunday she applied asafoetida to her breasts. When the youngster got a taste, he called to his pa for a chew of tobacco and declared he was through nursing.

From this point in his story the orator declared that it was time our federal government was putting on the asafoetida, and weaning some of the millions of people who are sucking their government for enormous amounts of money in one form or another. "Cut these folks off from the breasts of a suckling government, and the nation will stand on its own legs again," he advanced. "Statistics show that one out of every five people in the United States are getting government checks in one form or another. It's high time folks go to work with their own initiative and genius and let us recover from a debt that will hang like a pall over our country for several generations without any further undue spending."

WHAT CONTEMPORARIES ARE SAYING

CONSIDER THE MERCHANT

Local merchants here and elsewhere who immediately announced a hold-the-price-line policy showed at once a commendable spirit of cooperation and a proper concern for their customers' welfare. They have as much reason to fear wild inflation as anyone else, and as great a desire to prevent it.

It should be understood and appreciated, however, that the ability of the merchants to hold price lines is strictly limited. It is limited to the stocks they had on hand when OPA ceased to function. Obviously, if the manufacturing and distributing industries start pyramiding their prices, it will be passed along to retailers with every new order, and must inevitably be reflected in the prices paid by the consumer.

The price structure is like a pile of oranges displayed on a table. Remove or change the position of one orange, and the whole pile comes tumbling down.

The merchant who undertook to hold his retail prices down in the face of steadily rising costs of the goods he handles would be attempting the impossible.

And yet he is the man on the firing line, the first-line contact with the buyer. He is the man who must absorb the shock of customer reaction. He gets the blame, no matter how heroically he may strive to hold down the selling price by shaving his own margin of profit.

The big majority of our merchants are men of responsibility, with a keen sense of obligation to their customers. Many of them have built up their business over the years with painstaking care. They expect to stay in business, and to continue to satisfy their customers by fair dealing.

We think these observations are in order, for rising prices must inevitably be reflected in the retailer's prices, and the disposition of consumers will be to take it out on him. Except in rare cases, it is not his fault; he is merely the one who passes increased prices on to you, as they were passed on to him. If you have found him honest and considerate in the past, you can continue to trust him. He is on a spot not of his own making.—The Abilene Reporter-News.

To cultivate sympathy you must be among living creatures, and thinking about them.—Ruskin.

Impartiality is the life of justice, as justice is of all good government.—Justinian.

There is no virtue so truly great and godlike as justice.—Addison.

EX-BELL COUNTIANS SLATE REVIVAL OF REUNION JULY 28

Sunday, July 28—the day after the first Democratic primary—will bring former residents of Bell County now living in West Texas together at Buffalo Gap, 14 miles southwest of Abilene, for their first annual meeting since the early years of the war. Several Jones County people are expected to attend.

It will be a dinner-on-the-ground affair, with everybody bringing his own basket lunch, according to Vice President Joe E. Childers of Abilene. Lunch will be spread on tables under the spreading liveoaks at the Presbyterian camp ground at Buffalo Gap. There will be a short program, but mostly the visitors will just spend the time talking over old times in Bell County and renewing friendships.

More than 700 persons attended the last reunion before the war, coming from a score or more of counties in West Central Texas. The reunion was thought up by a little group conscious of the fact that thousands of ex-Bell Countians now inhabit all parts of West Texas, and that these might like to visit with each other and relive the old days in memory.

MRS. DORA J. NEAL DIES SATURDAY AT HAMLIN SON HOME

Mrs. Dora Judy Shearin Neal, long time resident of the Flat Top community, died Saturday at the home of a son, H. L. Neal, in Hamlin after a several-week illness.

Born July 2, 1865, at Littleton, North Carolina, Mrs. Neal came with her husband to Texas many years ago. They settled on a farm in the Flat Top community. Mr. Neal preceded his wife in death in September, 1926. To the union 11 children were born, eight of whom survive. Funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon at the Hamlin First Baptist Church. Rev. John H. Osteen, pastor, was assisted in the final rites by Bruce Proctor, Church of Christ minister of Abilene.

Pallbearers were W. L. Fletcher, E. C. Davis, D. C. Payne, Burt May, Homer Wilkins and Ira Clements. Interment was in the Hamlin East Cemetery, under direction of Barrow Funeral Home.

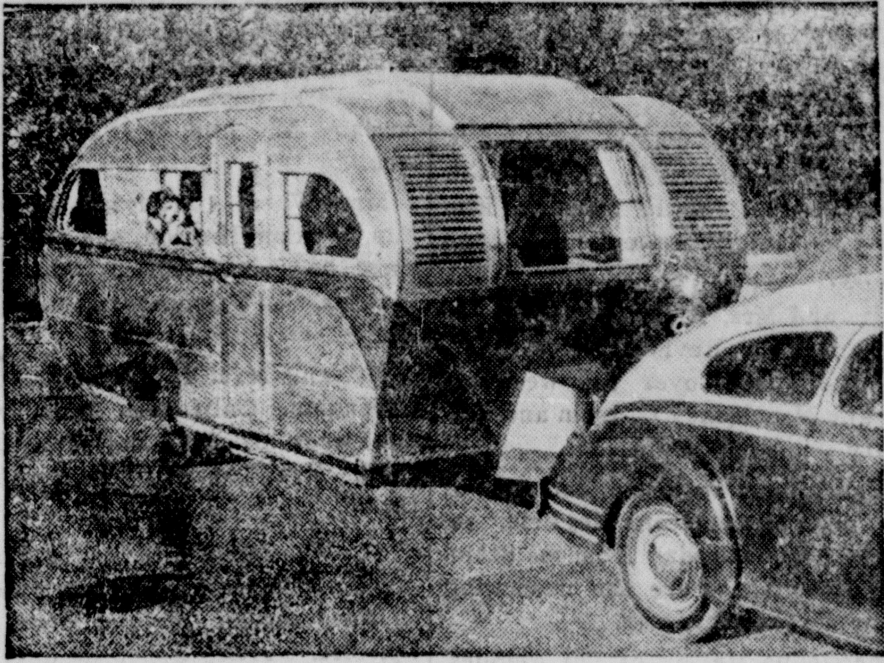

Survivors include four sons, Robert J. Neal, Glen Neal, Jack Neal and Homer Neal, all of Hamlin; four daughters, Mrs. Jessie N. Flood of Anson, Mrs. Doug Grimes of Hamlin, Mrs. Fred Bass of Dallas and Mrs. John O'Neal of Hamlin; 38 grandchildren and 27 great-grandchildren.

TURNING OF WORN SHIRT COLLAR ADDS MONTHS OF WEAR

Turning a worn collar may be all a man's shirt needs to help it give extra months of active service, and Hannah Nabors, county home demonstration agent, suggests two ways to do the trick.

The first is simply to rip off the collar, turn it over and re-sew it. When the turned side also shows wear, a new collar may be purchased at notion counters in stores, if the shirt is white. The quality of broadcloth in the collar should be matched to that in the shirt as nearly as possible.

The second way to turn a collar is to rip open the seam that joins the neckband to the shoulders, and turn the neckband along with the collar. Many housewives find that this gives a better looking job, because the new seam is covered by the necktie. However, turning the neckband requires moving the top button and working a new buttonhole.

Much wear on collars and cuffs may be saved if shirts go into the wash before they are so badly soiled that they need rubbing. Soaping collars and cuffs and then soaking for an hour or so before washing loosens some of the soil that otherwise may have to be scrubbed off. Rubbing between hands is suggested in washing in preference to scrubbing on a washboard, because it is easier on the fabric.

Here is another tip for getting the most wear from scarce men's shirts: When buttons pull off, sew them back with a thread shank. They not only look better, but the shank saves strain on the fabric and keeps the buttons from breaking out. To make a shank, lay a couple of pins across the button and sew over them. Then pull out the pins, lift the button, and hold it up while the thread is wound around the thread underneath.

Spirit of Revival Stays With Nazarene Church

We just closed a revival with the Carters as the evangelists, but in reality the revival spirit is still upon the church. The people are still filling the church in our regular services, and the spirit of the Lord can be felt in the singing. The minister finds it easy to preach in such a wonderful atmosphere.

We have our church cooled with a good washed air cooling unit, so if the weather is hot and you feel the need of a cooler clime, come to the Church of the Nazarene.

Our subjects next Sunday will be "The Keys to the Kingdom" at the morning hour, and for the evening service the subject will be "It May Be Later Than You Think." You are invited to come to these services and bring your Bible with you. "And search the scriptures: for in them ye think ye have eternal life" (John 5:39).—J. T. Crawford, Pastor.

GIB SANDEFER for Representative 17TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

A Life-Long West Texan with a Realistic Vision of Our Needs

FOR GI JOE AND HIS SISTER JANE—The help and encouragement of a grateful country, in every way that can be accomplished. For the war's disabled—all they need, at whatever cost.

FOR THE FARMER AND STOCKMAN—A legislative program geared to their needs, responsive to their wishes, and guided by their advice and consent, administered as far as possible by the farmers and stockmen themselves through boards representing their local or regional interests.

FOR THE SMALL BUSINESS MAN—Recognition as the mainstay of the American system, assistance and encouragement whenever he needs it, protection against the powerful forces that would destroy his existence, and a minimum of government interference in the conduct of his business.

FOR NATIONAL DEFENSE—An adequate and alert military establishment, backed by continuing research and experimentation, officered and manned by professional soldiers paid a decent wage, given an equal break in privileges, and made to feel that their career is as honorable as it is ancient.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS—The principle of the Golden Rule, extended to all nations, all-out cooperation with peace-loving peoples who desire only the rights of mankind and the enjoyment of peace and plenty.

LABOR—Maintenance of the principles of collective bargaining, with a sharing of responsibility by labor, industry and government; the promotion of live-and-let-live attitude between capital and labor, with the rights of the public to be recognized and protected.

OIL—Continuance of the practice of conversation through cooperation of state and federal government, and the protection of the interests of the producer, land owner and consumer—which in the long run are identical.

PRIVATE ENTERPRISE—Government's chief concern should be to serve as umpire, to protect the young and the weak against the strong, the honest from the dishonest, and the good from the bad—with as little governmental control and regulation as possible.

Hamlin Veteran Gets Invitation to Sale of Surplus War Vehicles

Sheppard Field near Wichita Falls is to be the scene of a special invitation sale exclusively for veterans of World War II Thursday and Friday, July 25 and 26, according to an announcement made this week by the War Assets Administration.

One Hamlin veteran has received a letter of invitation to attend the sale. Inspection of the vehicles may be made daily from July 22 through July 26 with the sale to take place from 9:00 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. on July 25 and 26.

WAA officials pointed out that, since invited veterans may appear either day to claim the vehicle of their choice, no veterans should plan to attend the event who are not in receipt of a letter of invitation.

Included in the offering of 93 vehicles are trucks, ambulances, scooters and weapon carriers. All sales are at fixed prices and on a cash basis.

POT-SHOTS FROM McCauley

BY GEO DARDEN

Thanks to J. W. (Bynum) Maberry for a renewal to The Hamlin Herald.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bishop and children of Fort Worth visited last week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Courtney. Mr. Bishop formerly worked as bookkeeper at a McCauley gin, and Mrs. Bishop was employed as teacher in the McCauley Schools. He is now connected with the Renfro Drug Stores in Fort Worth.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Johnson of Dallas visited last week in the home of their daughter, Mrs. Melvin Henderson. Mr. Johnson reports a fair corn crop at Dublin. They are former residents of this community.

Between hamburgers, our friend Otis is still talking John Lee—but as far as his chances to become governor we think Otis is about ready to throw in the "towel."

Bud Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Lee, who is stationed in Mississippi with Uncle Sam's Army, is home on leave. It is Bud's first time home since he enlisted.

Silly, but true: Every man who disagrees with the gang of politicians down at Austin is quickly charged with being a communist. The "gang" is charging Dr. Rainey with everything in the book of rotten politics, such as being a nigger lover, communist and the Lord only know what else. But people who think for themselves and who have studied the records know that such "gutter propaganda" is purely bunk. Watch Homer P. Rainey lead the ticket even though the money lovers of the north will go the limit to keep him out of the governor's chair.

Mr. and Mrs. George Darden and children visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Morgan last Sunday at Roscoe.

J. D. Maberry suffered a stroke last week, and his condition at this writing is considered serious. He is at the Rotan hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Turner Beard of Clyde have been visiting in the home of Mrs. W. M. Keller and Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Rector.

J. E. McDonald is running again. He has been commissioner of agriculture of Texas so long we have forgotten. He fought Roosevelt and all he stood for. He is a Texas Regular (Republican, in other words) and the farmers of Texas will suffer so long as we keep sending him back to Austin. Don't you think it is time we are cleaning house down at our state capitol?

The new highway running from Hamlin to Sylvester is progressing nicely. Black topping is being spread out of Sylvester toward McCauley. Gravel haulers are on the run, and soon we will have a road that will connect our communities with all major highways of the nation.

Louis Boyd, R. L. Miers, F. L. Rector and possibly others are leaving this week on a big fishing trip to Coleman County.

Mr. and Mrs. Leldon Clifton visited this week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Rector.

The OPA haters have at last gotten their wishes. Butter is better than 80 cents per pound; rent has reached an all-time high; and we see where the unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor plan a non-buying strike. A good idea. If folks will just quit buying for say 90 days, we will see the big boys lower the price—and in case they don't, just let them keep it—meaning everything we don't have to have.

Dixie Maberry is visiting relatives at Hermleigh for two weeks.

Well, folks, we have found out one thing. Our political comments are not necessarily the sentiments of the publisher—but he is big enough to let us get by with them.

Margaret Darden is spending this week with Jennell Smith in Rotan.

Comment No. 1.—This scribe mottored over to Abilene on Tuesday night of last week to hear the address of Dr. Homer P. Rainey, leading candidate for governor of this state. All along we have heard a lot of "smear" campaign tactics against Mr. Rainey, and we wanted to hear first-hand what Mr. Rainey was saying or doing with reference to answering such charges as had been hurled at him by the handful of politicians at Austin, who are running this state and who hope to continue to keep our citizens in the dark and sell our raw materials to eastern and northern states at give-away prices.

We came away from the federal lawn with gratitude in our hearts for men like Rainey, who have the guts and ability to fight against such a well organized band of political racketeers who have sold our state "down the river" in order to receive the support of the money interests of the north.

Yes, they are all after Rainey's hide. It makes no difference as to the ways and means and to how much money is being spent to defeat Mr. Rainey for governor of our state, the big boys are after his hide. But will the plain people of Texas again become suckers and fall for the rotten propaganda that is being spread to defeat Homer Rainey?

We need now as never before more men like Dr. Rainey—men who will not sell their birthright for a mess of pottage. He was fired as president of Texas University because he would not be dictated to by a band of Texas Regulars and Republican regents. And since Rainey lost his job as president of Texas U. every single regent who has been appointed is either a member of the Republican party or a Texas Regular. Because of the fact that Rainey wholeheartedly supported the cause of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt, fence straddlers, Republicans and Texas Regulars who have been running this state will do all within their power to defeat Rainey for governor. There will be a new deal for Texans with Homer P. Rainey becomes governor of Texas.

Electricity Works for Peanuts!

And if you aren't up on today's expressive slang, "peanuts" means a very small amount of money. Like your electric bill. It really is "peanuts," isn't it—compared to most other items in your family budget?

While the cost of most things climbed through the years—the price of electric service kept right on going down. Even in wartime, when practically all prices popped up, electricity actually became a few "peanuts" cheaper.

As a matter of fact, the average American family gets twice as much electricity for its money today as it did 15 years ago!

All of this goes to prove an important point. Sound business management—and experienced employees—together have given the American people dependable, low-priced electric service—the best and most in the world! You'll enjoy that service even more in the electric years ahead.
